Bonjour, voici la réponse de l'éditeur de magicpicturebox à la question concernant le problème...

Essayer c'est voir...

I'm not quite certain exactly what you're asking, but MagicPictureBox will do everything that a regular picturebox will do, plus it will allow you to save in JPEG format. You can download the trial version and see if it does what you want. If it does, then you can pay for the full version. The trial version is fully functional, it just has a registration reminder screen that pops up randomly.

I'm looking for an activeX solution that would allow me to merge photos surch as applying hear collor/cut on a face and display/save it.

Does your MagicpictureBox enable this ?
Kind regards
